“SHERLOCK HOLMES IN ACTION”

Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson went on a camping trip. After a good meal and a bottle of wine they lay down for the night, and went to sleep.

Some hours later, Holmes awoke and nudged his faithful friend awake. “Watson, look up at the sky and tell me what you see.”

Watson replied, “I see millions and millions of stars.”

“What does that tell you?” Holmes questioned.

Watson pondered for a minute. “Astronomically, it tells me that there are millions of galaxies and potentially billions of planets. Astrologically, I observe that Saturn is in Leo.

Horologically, I deduce that the time is approximately a quarter past three. Theologically, I can see that God is all powerful and that we are small and insignificant. Meteorologically, I suspect that we will have a beautiful day tomorrow. What does it tell you?”

Holmes was silent for a minute, then spoke. “Watson, you idiot. Someone has stolen our tent.”

GOOD JOB!!!!

OMAN

It was announced last April 6 in Oman that the new weekend starting from May 1, will now be on Friday and Saturday for the entire country.

For the first time, His Majesty Sultan Qaboos bin Said has directed that the nation – both public and private sectors - must follow the same period of holidays on all national and religious occasions. The statement by the Council of Ministers also said that the number of holidays will be determined by the existing Royal Decrees.

Typically, the period of holidays for the public sector on all occasions from Eid to National Day usually exceed that of the private sector by one to three days.

The change is welcome because it means Oman's weekends will coincide with those in the United Arab Emirates. And will be creating a sense of equality for business concerns and transaction between MEF and MEFK. And all the email communications and matters will be much easier for this changes.
